

History

The National Association of Retired Postal Inspectors (NARPI) was founded in 1967 for the purpose of providing retired postal inspectors, as well as their spouses, a means for social fellowship and activities in their retirement years. As time went on, we included all other retired US Postal Inspection Service (USPIS) employees in NARPI.

Membership

Eligibility for NARPI membership includes:

- Retired persons who served at least five years as postal inspectors and left the position under honorable conditions, and their spouses;
- USPIS employees, including Postal Police Officers and Professional/Technical and Administrative personnel, who either retired from a USPIS position or served in a USPIS position for at least five years, and left the USPIS or US Postal Service under honorable circumstances, and their spouses; and

- Spouses of deceased NARPI members.

A copy of our membership application can be downloaded from our website: narpi.org.

Chapters

Presently, NARPI is organized into three regions: Atlantic, Western and Mid-America. Each region is comprised of several local chapters.

Local chapters hold meetings at frequencies ranging from monthly to quarterly. They may be luncheon or dinner meetings but may also be group trips to sporting events or other activities. If there is no chapter in your area, we can help you start one.

We are confident you will recognize NARPI is the right organization for you. We look forward to welcoming you into NARPI as you begin this new phase of your life and hope you join us at both local chapter meetings and our reunions.
